

C. I. O. ENEMIES DRAW LINES FOR UNION STRUGGLE

Antagonism Crops Up In Move To Enroll Steel Workers

Carnegie Steel Says C. I. O. Not Sole Bargainer

(By the Associated Press.)
Opponents of the Committee for Industrial Organization's drive to organize all industrial workers drew their battle lines yesterday.

The antagonism became most manifest in "Big Steel" and American Federation of Labor circles as these developments dominated another eventful day.

1. Defenders of the so-called "company unions" in the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corp. rallied their forces against the C. I. O. Their spokesmen conferred with President B. F. Fairless and were assured his recognition of a C. I. O. union would not preclude collective bargaining with other representatives of his employees.

Delegates of the newly formed employees' independent labor organization in five of the corporation's Chicago district plants planned to meet with Fairless next week.

2. A P. O. L. unit was advised in a letter from President William Green it would brook no support of the C. I. O. by its members and was ready to act to protect its interests.

The cleavage in labor's ranks was emphasized by the Cleveland Federation of Labor's suspension of five C. I. O. unions.

3. Ten thousand more workers were forced into idleness by disputes already keeping approximately 40,000 away from their duties in strike centers across the continent.

4. The Bethlehem Steel Company's Lebanon, Pa., plant was closed because of a misunderstanding over the firm's recent pay raise. C. I. O. leaders, urging the 3,500 workers to "make them deal with John L. Lewis," claimed all hands in the mechanical department had walked out, demanding an agreement similar to that signed by Carnegie-Illinois and Lewis C. I. O. Lehighmen.

5. Carnegie-Illinois, the nation's largest steel producer, increased the price of its products $3 to $8 a ton to finance a wage increase and 40,000 new jobs for 125,000 employees.

The new pay scale was posted last Tuesday, simultaneous with its effective date. The C. I. O. Other firms quickly adopted the same schedules. Three more voted pay hikes yesterday—the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Co. and the Woodward Iron Co., both of Birmingham, Ala., and the Carpenter Steel Co. at Reading, Pa. The United States Steel Corp., parent of Carnegie-Illinois, also announced it would boost steel prices.

6. President Alfred P. Sloan, Jr. of General Motors Corp., now apparently near conclusion of its post-sponsorship conference with the C. I. O. sponsored United Automobile Workers Union, informed employees management would continue to deal with all qualified spokesmen and they need not join or "pay tribute" to any labor group.

7. President Homer Martin of the U. A. W. termed his union "the only agency for the settlement of disputes in the motor car industry." The union engaged in parleys with the Chrysler and Hudson Motor Companies and prepared to bargain with more than a half dozen auto parts manufacturers whose plants have been affected by strikes.

OUT KEEPS A MOUSE
Ellinwood, Kas., March 4.—(AP)—The band was rehearsing "The Mickey Mouse March." Eva Thomason, French horn player, tried to start the important part the instrument has in the piece, but got only a squeak.

"Himmm," said the director, "let me try." Another squeak. Then they put air pressure to the horn—and out came a mouse.

Roosevelt Passes Up Main Course at Victory Dinner

Washington, March 4.—(AP)—President Roosevelt passed up the main course at the $100-a-plate dinner he addressed tonight.

When the waiter brought the capon on ham he waved it aside, lit a fresh cigarette and resumed an animated chat with his party generalissimo—James A. Farley.

When the waiter brought the capon merely following his custom of rarely eating meat at night, was not immediately disclosed.

Budget Deadline in Illinois May Be Set Aside by Democrats

Believe Current Finance
Schedule Will Be Short
$19,000,000

Springfield, Ill., March 4.—(AP)—Waiting for the biennial budget to appear next week, state house circles discussed the possibility today of a move by the Horner administration to remove the deadline for the budget's introduction early in the legislative session.

The budget, nearly $19,000,000 out of balance for the biennium starting July 1, is scheduled to appear Tuesday, with the appropriations committee to work with the administration in trimming requests to meet anticipated revenues.

Under the terms of the civil administrative code, the budget is due within four weeks after the general assembly convenes in early January. The delay was given by Republican representatives as their reason for not supporting the administration's utility tax bill yesterday.

Four years ago, when Governor Horner took office, the reports of the appropriations committee served as the budget. In 1935 and 1937, the data on receipts and expenditures was delayed past the deadline.

Officials said it was possible a bill might be introduced to remove or extend the budget deadline, so the governor would not have to rush its introduction.

Meanwhile, a house bill to appropriate $55,000 for state fair buildings has been held in the senate without action since the possibility of an unbalanced budget was first discussed. The fair improvements would be paid for from the agricultural premium fund, into which go receipts from race tracks.

Mother-in-Law Day Observed in Texas

Amarillo, Tex., March 4.—(AP)—Tomorrow is "Mother-in-Law" day in Texas, by proclamation of Gov. James V. Alfred—and don't smile when you say it, stranger.

In the four years since Editor Gene Howe initiated the event here in penance for a flippant printed reference to his wife's mother as "The Standing Army," its observance has spread to statewide proportions.

Governor Alfred, who set aside tomorrow for honoring "those unselfish, kindly, patriotic women," proposes that the movement be made nationwide.

The Amarillo tribute, he said, "has set up a new appreciation of the mother-in-law for sympathy, long-suffering and expensive help given newlyweds of every generation."

"Good" mothers-in-law—those who can produce notes from the mails of their sons and daughters saying they have been "good," will reap their reward here tomorrow. Theaters will admit them free. Stores will offer free merchandise. They will be guests at a luncheon.

FLOOD CONTROL
East St. Louis, Ill., Mar. 4.—(AP)—The East St. Louis levee and Sanitary District announced today options are being taken on the right of way for the proposed $1,158,000 flood control project. Thirty-one miles of levees in the city's area would be straightened and raised under the plans.

GIVES CONVICT 150 YEARS FOR PART IN BREAK

Judge Lets Murderer Choose Between Life, Death

Joliet, Ill., March 4.—(AP)—A murderer whom a judge gave the choice of death in the electric chair or 150 years in prison was in Stateville penitentiary tonight awaiting assignment to convict duty—because he chose to live.

James Price, 36, shuffled into court today, heavily manacled. He was one of seven Stateville convicts who escaped May 5, 1936, and was captured later and charged with the murder of Deputy Warden Peter Klein, slain during the break.

He told guards he planned to plead guilty, take life imprisonment and be eligible for parole in 20 years. Then he would be 56.

His plea was announced to the court Judge W. R. Hunter, of Kankakee, turned to State's Attorney James Burke and inquired:

"If I sentence him to life, when will he be eligible for parole?"

"In 20 years, your honor," Burke replied.

Then to Price the judge said: "I'm going to give you your choice of punishment. You can take 150 years in prison or... the electric chair."

Price palmed, gulped and fidgeted with his collar.

"Okay, Judge," he stammered. "I'll take the hundred 'n' fifty."

"That's all right with me," said the judge. "This will put you where the parole board can't be letting you out."

He explained that with a minimum sentence of 50 years to serve before he could even petition the parole board for his release. Price would be 66 years old before he had a chance of freedom.

With the sentencing of Price only one of the seven escaped convicts, Bernard Roe, sought for the murder of Klein was unaccounted for. Four were hanged for their part in the shooting and one was killed in an attempt to escape from the Joliet county jail.

Lewis Asks Study Of Court Revision

Chicago, March 4.—(AP)—U. S. Senator James Hamilton Lewis called tonight for careful consideration of the president's proposal for revamping the federal court system before taking a stand.

"What is needed," the elderly Democratic whip of the upper house said in a prepared address, "is a further examination rather than the superficial that we reach conclusions by reasoning rather than the resort to quick condemnation and violent vituperation."

Senator Lewis spoke at a Democratic "Victory" dinner, one of more than a thousand held in many cities in the United States.

On the same program was U. S. Senator P. Ryan Duffy of Wisconsin, who spoke early to permit his appearance at another dinner in Milwaukee.

Senator Lewis withheld his own opinion on the president's plan, on the ground that as whip of the Senate he would not "prejudice the administration or announce the course of my duty as to a measure which I have not seen the provisions of."

President Maintains Supreme Court Acts "Condemned Nation"

Accusing the Justices of rendering congress impotent to attack social and economic ills,

Washington, March 4.—(AP)—President Roosevelt swung tonight into the thick of the fight over his proposal to revamp the supreme court, with a charge that the tribunal's majority had condemned the nation to be "A No Man's Land of Final Futility."

With an obvious reference to the "dictator" charges hurled by his enemies, he disclaimed any intent to seek a third term in office. And he struck again at the tribunal's majority with the accusation that some justices were letting their own economic beliefs control their decisions.

He said it pleased the "personal economic predilections of a majority of the court that we live in a nation where there is no legal power anywhere to deal with its most difficult practical problems—a no man's land of final futility."

The speech, his first utterance on the courts since his message on the judiciary went to congress a month ago, was delivered at a significant "victory dinner" here, featured event of dozens of Democratic dinners throughout the country celebrating the 1936 landslide.

Mr. Roosevelt recited the new deal's effort to deal with the farm problem by the agricultural adjustment administration, and of the effort to improve labor conditions through the NRA. After each reference he asserted:

"Again and again, he emphasized in short, emphatic sentences that the conditions which his administration seeks to correct by legislation are conditions that exist 'now.'"

"If we would keep faith with those who had faith in us, if we would make democracy succeed, I say we must act—now."

His address began with a reference to the banking crisis of his inauguration, four years ago today. And then, quickly, he said:

"Now we face another crisis—of a different kind but fundamentally even more grave than that of four years ago. Tonight, I want to begin with you a discussion of that crisis."

The Democratic party, he continued, will remain the majority party only if it solves "the pressing problems that perplex our generation." He pledged that those problems would be solved.

"We gave warning last November that we had only begun to fight. Did some people really believe we did not mean it. Well—I mean it, and you mean it."

His great ambition, he went on, is to turn the presidency over "to my successor whenever he may be, with the assurance that I am at the same time turning over to him as president, a nation intact, a nation at peace, a nation prosperous, a nation clear in its knowledge of what powers it has to serve its own citizens, a nation that is in a position to use those powers to the full in order to move forward steadily to meet the modern needs of humanity—a nation which has proved that the Democratic form and methods of national government can and will succeed."

Asserting that "no one who sees as a whole today's picture of this nation and the world can help but feel concern for the future," he said that thousands of messages coming to the White House served but to emphasize "the ever accelerating speed with which social forces now gather headway."

It took forty years, he said, to settle the issue of slavery, and added:

"But economic freedom for the wage earner and the farmer and the small business man will not wait, like emancipation, for forty years. It will not wait for four years. It will not wait at all."

He pointed to the departures from Democratic forms of other governments in recent years and said:

"In the United States, democracy has not yet failed and does not need to fail. And we propose not to let it fail."

"Nevertheless, I cannot tell you with complete candor that in these past few years, democracy in the United States has fully succeeded. Nor can I tell you, under present circumstances, just where American democracy is headed nor just what it is permitted to do in order to insure its continued success and survival. I can only hope."

URGE CONGRESS TO LIMIT FUNDS FOR CAMPAIGNS

Believe $48,000,000 Spent In The Last Campaign

Washington, March 4.—(AP)—Senate investigators, reporting that as much as $48,000,000 may have been spent in the last presidential campaign, urged congress today to clamp new restrictions on political expenditures.

In its final report the senate campaign expenditures committee revealed that it had traced disbursement of $23,973,329 by candidates and political organizations.

Unsubstantiated expenditures by individuals and local groups, it asserted, would perhaps double this total.

Expenses of the Republican national committee and its related organizations reached $14,198,202. The investigators disclosed, while the corresponding Democratic units spent $9,228,406.

In the 1936 campaign—more than twice as costly as any other on record—an average of 52 cents was spent for every vote cast.

The most expensive previous campaign was in 1928, when the two major parties together spent only $11,598,000.

Citing four major weaknesses in the present election laws, the committee, headed by Senator Lomeran (D-Conn.), recommended:

1. Prohibition of political contributions by labor unions or any other organization "whose aims or purposes are the furtherance of group, class, or special interests."

2. A new act to prevent "the influencing of voters through fear, intimidation, or coercion."

3. A clarification of the Franklin laws, rigidly defining how federal officials may exercise their free use of the mails.

4. "A uniform system of accounting" for all national political organizations, to eliminate "complexities and confusion."

In suggesting restrictions on campaign donations by labor unions, the committee noted that such organizations gave the "unprecedented" sum of $770,325 to aid President Roosevelt's re-election.

It pointed out that in order to prevent "influencing of legislation" corporations have been "forbidden to spend money for political purposes, and added that "the same reasoning applies" to labor groups.

"Kidnap" Wife Will Be Taken to Chicago

Clinton, Iowa, March 4.—(AP)—Marguerite Eustice O'Brien, 33, central figure in the marital muddle with Quin O'Brien, assistant Chicago corporation counsel, will be returned to Chicago tonight to face kidnapping charges preferred by O'Brien, Clinton police said.

Police said Mrs. O'Brien will be accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Blanche Eustice, a divorcee, and two Chicago police matrons.

Her mother is co-defendant in the kidnap case along with several others, including her father Dr. William Eustice of Elizabeth, Ill.

Mrs. O'Brien and her mother since Sunday have been under police guard at her childhood home here. She said today she will resist O'Brien's marriage annulment petition now pending in Chicago municipal court.

Search Ashes For More Fire Victims In 2 Tenements

New York, March 4.—(AP)—In the tragic ashes of two squalid five story tenements where at least three persons had died in a spectacular fire, men poked about tonight in search of more bodies.

As firemen expressed the fear that the dead might number several more, Deputy Tenement House Commissioner Harry M. Prince, saying there was evidence of failure to comply with safety regulations in the buildings, asked an investigation.

A party-going girl returning home late saw fire shoot forth from the first of the tenements at about 3 a. m.

Soon it had spread to the adjoining house and for hours much of the fire-fighting force of Manhattan fought against the flames. Police nightsticks pounded upon doors to awaken the endangered and altogether some 200 fled to the streets.

Eleven firemen and at least four of the slum-dwellers were injured.

Insurgent Shells Land in Residence Section of Madrid

Report Government Gains
In Fighting Outside
Capital City

Madrid, March 4.—(AP)—Insurgent shells screamed into Madrid's residential districts tonight, causing casualties among civilians.

Two big missiles landed in a plaza six blocks from the American Embassy building. (A large percentage of the Americans in Madrid live at the embassy.)

Official reports said the government's southern army, trying to keep the insurgents away from the seaport of Almeria, had cut a road between Orgiva and Velez Banaudilla, lying just north of Motril and occupied by insurgents operating out of Granada.

The government soldiers also gained possession of heights dominating Orgiva and were pressing toward Velez Banaudilla in an effort to cut the main Granada-Motril highway at that point, these reports said.

Another government force was said to have occupied Calahorra, a coastal town just east of Motril, prior to beginning a further push westward.

Fighting in the El Prado and University City areas of Madrid materially improved government positions, official reports declared tonight.

Insurgents suffered their severest blow in the University City suburb where one of their major redoubts—clinic hospital—was damaged by the explosion of a mine.

Dawn revealed an opening in the center of the building where the collapse took in part of the ground level and the basement in which the insurgents were fortified.

The upper part of the structure long since was rendered untenable by government artillery fire, which left only the framework of the massive building.

Despite the collapse, the insurgent defenders remained in the building and walked up exposed parts of the basement with fallen masonry.

POPE PROUD OF BEING ABLE TO TAKE STEPS
Rome, March 4.—(AP)—Proudly demonstrating his ability to walk a few paces without danger of tripping his healing legs, Pope Pius greeted several cardinals today after a night of cheerful convalescence.

Doctors continued careful supervision fearing chills might develop because of uncertain weather and the pope's inclination to overdo, but they, too, were enthused over his improvement.

Starting the fourth month since he was stricken, the pope, smiling, told Archbishop Alfredo Ottaviani, who had been ill, "Monsignor, take care of yourself."

CONFESSION OF DENTIST SEEMS TRUE TO FACTS

Says He Was Preparing To Perform An Abortion

Charlotteville, Va., March 4.—(AP)—Investigating officers said tonight they had found few discrepancies in the signed confession of Dr. Richard G. Miller, 33-year-old dentist, charged with the chloroform murder of 18-year-old Cleo Sproule.

Meanwhile, commonwealth's attorney, W. O. Fife, announced his intention of seeking a trial early in April for Miller, married, the father of two children and active in civic affairs and local sportsmen's clubs.

Sheriff J. Mason Smith said his investigation bore out the signed statement that the girl, whose body was found near a wall of the University of Virginia cemetery, had died while Miller was administering chloroform preparatory to performing an abortion. The sheriff added that he was not entirely satisfied.

The statement obtained last night after the dentist had been taken to the Henrico county jail at Richmond, where he was held incommunicado today, lacked some details, Smith said, which had been included in an oral statement made to officers en route from Charlottesville to Richmond.

The text of the statement was not released, but Detective Lieutenant B. A. Shipp, who arrested Miller at his office yesterday afternoon, said the dentist told him the pretty, suburban girl died Monday night in a borrowed automobile on a side road six miles from Charlottesville within a "minute" after he started administering the anaesthetic.

The confession, as related by the officers, told of the elderly man's terror when he realized the girl was dead, and of how he had walked until dark and then had driven to the cemetery, where he placed the body, arranging it to simulate suicide.

Two university engineering students made the gruesome discovery Tuesday morning.

The girl's body was found with medical action stuffed into the nostrils and mouth, a white towel spread over the face and an empty chloroform can inverted on her chin.

Professor Fife said he was "working on the assumption that this was a case of murder in the first degree."

He said he would oppose any appeal for bail, "certainly at this time."

The commonwealth's attorney said Miller had told authorities where to search for the "instrument" with which he planned to perform the operation on the girl, but that they so far had been unable to locate it.

Fife also reported the dentist had told investigators he once had assisted in another abortion, administering the anaesthetic.

T. A. Balthis, assistant state chemist at Richmond, where the girl's vital organs were sent for analysis, reported "nothing positive" thus far. He said it might require "some time" to complete his examination.

Miss Sproule's widowed mother collapsed this afternoon at the grave of her daughter in Rivermont cemetery after brief funeral services at their modest Charlottesville home.

Rainer, Paul Muni Win Screen Award

Hollywood, Calif., March 4.—(AP)—Luis Rainer, recipient of the award of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences tonight for the best performance by an actress in 1936, for her work in "The Great Ziegfeld."

Paul Muni was voted the actor for the best performance by an actor, for his portrayal of the late role in "The Story of Louis Pasteur."

Awards for the best supporting actress and actor went to Gail Sondergaard for her work in "Anthony Adverse," and to Walter Brennan for his performance in "Come and Get It."

Weather

For Jacksonville and vicinity:
Fair today and tomorrow; warmer tomorrow.

The Norbury Sanatorium, cooperative observed for the U. S. Weather Bureau, last night gave temperatures as High 56; Low 42 and Current 42.

Illinois: Generally fair Friday and Saturday; rising temperature in extreme north portion Friday and in central and south portions Saturday.

Missouri: Fair Friday and Saturday; rising temperature in north-west portion Friday and in east and south Saturday.

1,300 Pay $100 Each To Eat With Roosevelt At "Victory Dinner"

Washington, March 4.—(AP)—Bite by bite, the democratic deficit dwindled tonight.

In celebration of their November victory, more than 1,300 party enthusiasts tackled a toothsome and expensive "victory dinner" here with a zest.

Engraved "invitations" for the Democratic National Committee brought them together in the Mayflower Hotel, but only after most careful preliminaries. First, there was the ticket of admittance—price $100, payable on the installment plan. (Of the $100, about $3 went for the dinner, the rest to reduce the $40,000 party debt.)

Second, there were the table tickets showing at just which seat each guest could enjoy his sherry. Another card requested gentlemen to wear "black ties," but advance assurances were given that those in tails (or even tweeds) would be seated—if they had tickets.

Brawny guards stood by to bar crashers. The only celebrant with a

GALENA GETS SECOND WARNING OF FLOODS

Galena, Ill., March 4.—(AP)—Galena residents relaxed tonight after a new flood scare in the wake of inundation two weeks ago that caused considerable damage and took three lives.

The Galena river rose at the rate of a foot an hour early in the day, but slowed its rise after daylight and reached a crest of 22.88 feet early in the afternoon. The crest was nearly five feet below that of Feb. 21.

A small part of the city was inundated but damage was relatively small. Many merchants have moved their stocks when heavy rain continued yesterday.

Olroyd Funeral at Virginia Saturday

Sister of Local Resident Passes Away Wednesday in Cass County

Funeral services for Mrs. Elizabeth Jane Olroyd, who died late Wednesday night at her home southeast of Virginia, will be held Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in Virginia.

The remains are at the Purnell Funeral home in Virginia.

Mrs. Olroyd was a lifetime resident of Cass county. Her husband, Henry, preceded her in death.

She is survived by one brother and one sister, Amos Wright, of 603 North Main street, and Mrs. Nela Moss, of Springfield, in addition to a number of other relatives.

Is This Gratitude?

Only a few days ago a man walked into a public office at Denver, Colo., whipped out a revolver and killed three persons. The slayer, a former relief client, had a "grudge" against one or two persons responsible for distribution of relief orders.

Coming much closer home, we note that a Pike county reliever is in jail at Pittsburg, facing charges of assault and battery and using abusive language. The victim of his alleged assault was the township supervisor and chairman of the county board.

This man had been receiving relief. He had lived off of the public for months, but he was not satisfied. He criticized the chairman of the county board; cursed him, according to Pike county officials, and threatened him if his relief orders were not stepped up.

There was no gratitude in the relief client's tragic act at Denver. He never appreciated the help the state and nation lent him, or he would not have turned on the agent of his benefactors.

There was no gratitude in the act of the Pike county citizen who sought to take out his spite on a county official. The county board chairman cannot help it because the relief funds are running low. The responsibility of administering relief is up to the townships, and many of the townships have nearly as many families on relief as off of it.

Relief clients must understand, and most of them do, that the assistance they are receiving comes from a humane, generous government, which taxes persons who are working to support those who are not working.

They must keep in mind that the officials in charge of relief administration do not have piles of money which they can spend with abandon. The relief situation, itself, is badly in need of relief.

They must remember that if they have been helped, and that if the assistance gradually tapers off, it is a natural course for one of the nation's most costly, but highly important, enterprises to take. No one denies that public relief during the last few years has been absolutely necessary to keep thousands of families alive.

But the relief client, too, has some responsibility of his own. With public funds running low, he must redouble his efforts to become self-supporting, or at least partially so.

This may be difficult; it may be impossible; but he should never cease trying.

And he should never forget the help that has been extended him. The public has been kind—it has poured out millions of dollars with hardly a question as to how the money is being used.

Incidents such as occurred in Denver, and in Pike county, show ingratitude in the basest form. We do not believe they represent the sentiment of a large majority of men and women who are grateful for all assistance received, and who have hoped and dreamed of a day when they again will be entirely independent.

Biting the hand that feeds one is out of order—even in the relief business.

A Newspaper Sleuth

John T. Rogers' death at St. Louis Tuesday night recalls a number of important cases on which he worked in the capacity of investigator and ace reporter of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Rogers, probably known more widely for his straight-out detective work than for literary ability, won the Pulitzer prize in 1927 following an investigation which led to the impeachment of Judge George W. English, of the East St. Louis federal court.

When Dr. Isaac D. Kelley was surrendered by his kidnapers April 28, 1931, it was Rogers to whom they turned for negotiations.

In a number of murder and kidnapping investigations Rogers figured prominently both as a sleuth and as a reporter.

When the Ayers National bank of Jacksonville collapsed in November, 1932, Rogers was assigned to cover the case for his newspaper. He came to this city determined to dig into certain records, and to interrogate certain individuals, which no other newspaperman had been able to accomplish.

Rogers had his try—he went over the same ground, and attempted the same methods as others had used, but with the same results. He found, as others had learned, that investigators and newspapermen sometimes run up against situations that they cannot "crack" overnight.

Most of the facts Rogers had sought did come to light later on, but they were presented in court and not in exclusive interviews. Rogers was a fact-finder of much ability, else he would not have been highly honored by the Pulitzer award. But, as was stated, he was a private detective along with his reportorial work.

It has always been our contention that some metropolitan newspapers carry private investigation too far for the sake of a " scoop" or an exclusive story.

In some cases newspaper sleuths have been an aid to the public officers who are charged with the duty of investigating crime. But in other cases the presence of numerous newspaper investigators, who are in reality plain-clothesmen, actually retarded the work of regular officers.

We believe reporters should write what they know to be facts, but that they should not work ahead of or in competition with recognized officers of the law.

Mr. Rogers represented a type of reporting that often placed him in personal danger. He rubbed shoulders with the underworld frequently in quest of information. He enjoyed all the protection of recognized law, yet so far as we know held no commission from a law enforcement body.

His work was brilliant of its kind. He could be depended upon to get the facts if they were obtainable. But the type of work he did was typical of the larger cities where the newspapers seem to be judged by the number of sleuths and under-cover men they have on their staffs.

Michigan's Diplomat

The Murphy family should be pardoned if it feels a bit proud of its boy Frank.

After all is said and done, the General Motors plants would probably not be operating today were it not for the tenacity and never-say-die spirit of Governor Frank Murphy, of Michigan, who finally brought about the settlement after the government had failed, and the two opposing elements were at complete logger-heads.

Governor Murphy has stamped himself as a broad-gauge constructive office holder who really deserves the frequently abused title of statesman. While the federal government appeared to be helpless to end the paralyzing strike, Governor Murphy was in one of the toughest spots in our industrial history.

He was new to his office, and it would have been easy to dodge responsibility. He could have slid out from under and hidden behind meat-mouthed platitudes, as do too many public officials when they find themselves on the hot seat. A governor of small calibre would have dropped the hot potato and refrained from the risk of burning his fingers.

But not Murphy! He had been in tight corners before and he knew the best way out of them is to fight your way out.

Governor Murphy had the idea, and rightly so, that the labor dispute could be settled peacefully and on a basis that was reasonably satisfactory to both sides, around a council table. In the end, that was the way it was settled. And a large share of the credit is due to Governor Murphy.

Not Surprising, At All

Chandlerville Women's club engaged in a poll this week on the proposition of revamping the United States supreme court. The women voted 8 to 1 against it, and 6 to 2 against the proposal for voluntary retirement of court justices at the age of 70 years.

In fact, we have read of but one poll that did not give a preponderance of votes against the proposal. That poll was taken at a semi-political gathering, where party affiliation no doubt played a prominent part.

But the nationwide polls, tabulations of members of organizations such as the Illinois Bar association, county bar associations and clubs, show in no uncertain terms that citizens want their supreme court let alone.

The Chandlerville women who cast votes in the poll are intelligent, well-read citizens, who devote considerable study each season to affairs of government and current events. Their decision was not rendered blindly. It was representative of what the average American thinks of the proposal.

If public sentiment of this overwhelming nature does not make the senators and representatives sit up and take notice, they will show indifference to the desires of the people in their respective states and districts.

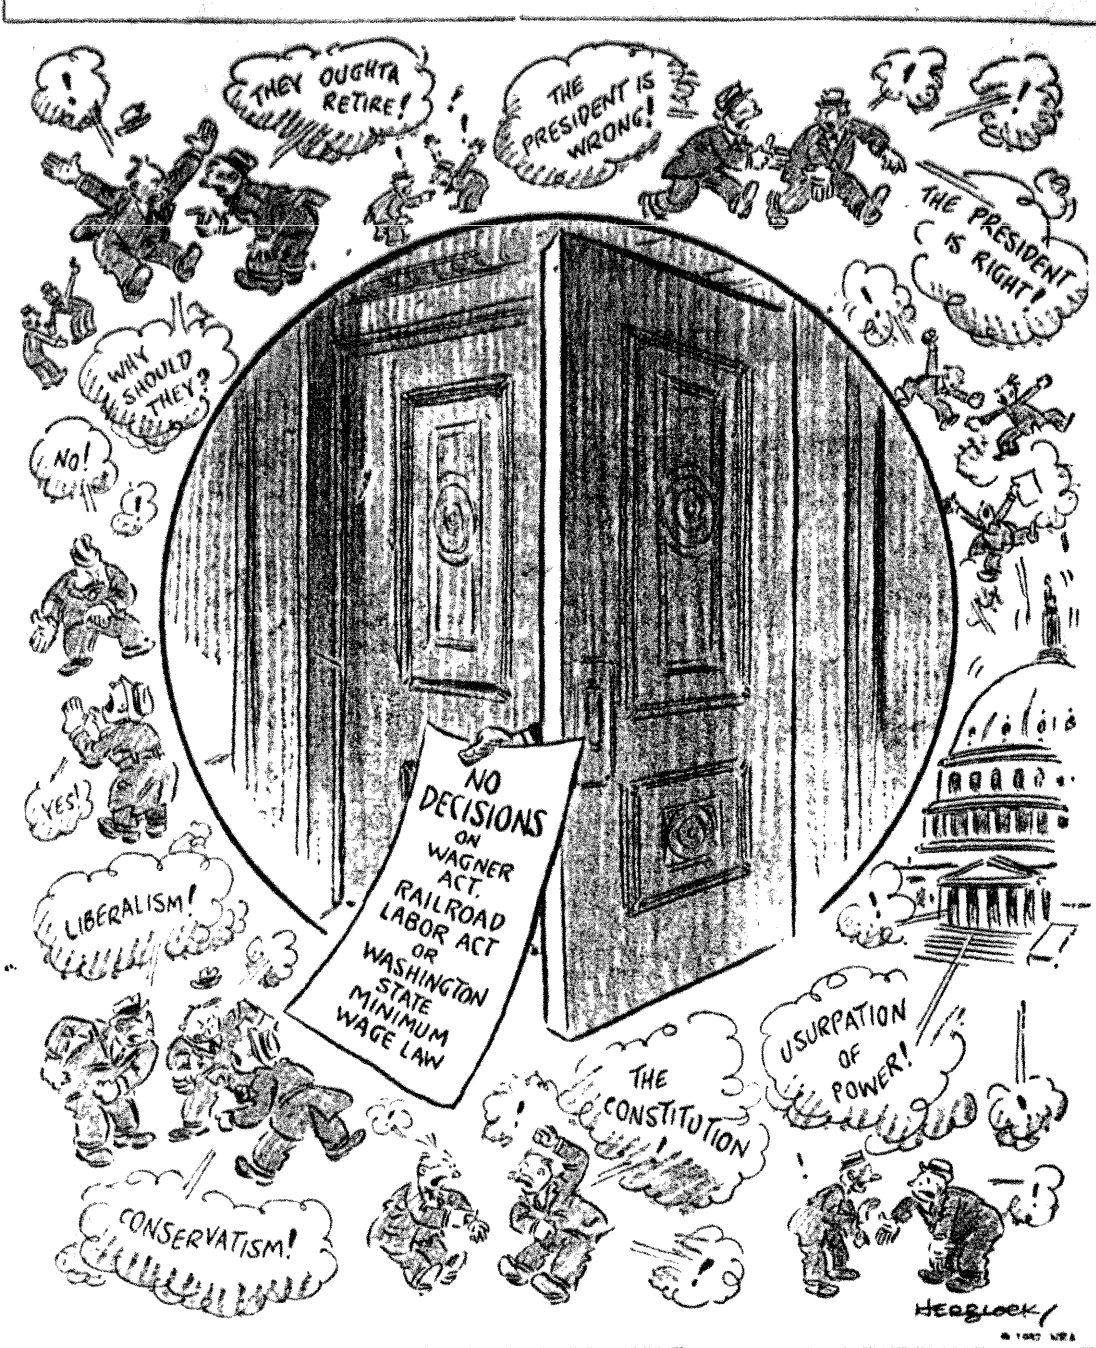

He'll Play The Helicon

After an extensive search that occupied two weeks, the United States Army recruiting sergeants finally located their man and now George F. Mager, age 27, of Pleasantville, N. Y., is at Fort Slocum awaiting shipment to the Panama Canal zone.

The enlistment of Mager a helicon player of the first grade, brought a successful terminus to the service's search for one blessed with the ability to compel the rare instrument to blend forth martial music and thus fill a glaring vacancy created in one of the military bands in the Canal zone.

The newspapers, from coast to coast, announced the army's quest for a helicon player, Jan. 6, 1937, and recruiting stations were swamped by letters phone calls and personal appearances of individuals confident of operating the rare instrument, once they learned how.

But none knew what a helicon was nor had ever seen one or acknowledged familiarity with the type of music rendered by the piece until Mager sauntered into a recruiting office in New York City, armed with credentials showing his ability to operate it.

Thus the search has come to a finale with Mager entertaining hundreds of others still a trifle bewildered and very curious regarding the instrument suddenly brought into popularity.

The recruiting service gets its man, it seems, the same as some of the other branches of military and naval service.

Thief Gets Edward Perbix Automobile After Failing Once

Machine Stolen Thursday After Man Fails to Get Car at Werries Home

A thief who was frightened away from the home of Earl Werries, near Chapin about midnight Wednesday, is believed to have stolen an automobile owned by Edward Perbix, a short distance from the Werries home, a short time later. Sheriff Kenneth Woods and Deputy Charles Weghoff investigated the attempted theft of the Werries machine and Thursday received the report that the Perbix machine had been taken.

Perbix left his automobile parked near the road at the Floyd Hynes farm, because of the impassable condition of the lane leading to his home. It was gone when he went to get his car.

Werries called the sheriff shortly after midnight after he had been awakened by the thief who failed to steal his automobile because of the mud in the driveway. The thief entered the farm yard, went behind the house, and drove the Werries machine out into the barn yard, and then made an effort to drive out to the road.

His first effort was balked by the mud in the driveway, and he backed up several yards and made another attempt to drive through the mud. The roaring of the motor awakened Werries, who went out and shouted at the man. The intruder leaped out of the machine, ran through mud behind the corn crib and through a cornfield to make his getaway. Werries told officers that he was not certain at first that the man was attempting to steal his car, and that he thought the person might have come into his barnyard by mistake.

Werries found a gray blanket in the back of the car. People at Concord told of seeing a man with a gray blanket get off the train there Wednesday afternoon. The sheriff obtained a description.

Whooping Cough, Once Regarded Lightly, Is Dangerous Ailment

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygieia, the Health Magazine

Nobody knows when whooping cough first appeared, with its noises and gasping in human beings. It seems to have first been described scientifically about 1578 and for a long time did not seem to disturb doctors very much.

One celebrated physician wrote in 1674 that "whooping cough is left to the management of old women and quack doctors." Yet today whooping cough causes more deaths than do most of the communicable diseases of childhood.

Between 1900 and 1930, the average number of people who died each year of this disease was 6,642. Most deaths from whooping cough are associated with secondary conditions, such as broncho-pneumonia or infections of the intestinal tract, and sometimes are not reported as having resulted from whooping cough.

The number of school days lost because of whooping cough is greater than for any of the other infectious diseases, and almost equals that for most of the other diseases of the breathing tract combined.

Whooping cough ordinarily appears in a child 7 to 10 days after he has been exposed to the disease. Cases may appear, however, as early as four days and as late as 16 days afterward. Experiments on monkeys, in fact, have shown instances in which infection has not appeared for 25 days.

County Democrats To Victory Dinner

Large Delegation Attend Banquet and Dance in Capital Thursday

Nearly 100 Morgan county Democrats went to Springfield last evening to attend the victory dinner at the St. Nicholas hotel. Three hundred reservations were made, with a third of the crowd from Morgan county and the rest from Sangamon. Judge J. M. Barnes was chairman of the county delegation. Governor Horner spoke and the group heard a broadcast of the president's speech.

Almost an equal number from this county attended the dance that followed the dinner. About eighty persons went to the capital especially for that part of the program. Dancing began at 9 o'clock in the Knights of Columbus auditorium.

SMALL BLAZE OCCURS IN STORAGE PLANT

About 10:30 o'clock Thursday morning firemen were called to the north building of the plant of the Jacksonville Ice & Cold Storage Co. on North Main street, where a spark from the chimney had set fire to some sacks of cork packing.

The sacks were stored on an upper floor. The fire burned the sacks, but did not damage the contents. It was easily extinguished.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Caused by Tired Kidneys

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way. The kidneys are Nature's chief organ of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 5 pounds of waste. If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, lumbago, loss of appetite, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headache and dizziness. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, and successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Observe 60th Wedding Anniversary

MR. AND MRS. JOSEPH VERMILLION

White Hall—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Vermillion quietly observed their sixtieth wedding anniversary March 1 at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Loren Fraser in the High Street neighborhood, about six miles southwest of this city.

Mr. Vermillion and Miss Rachel Frances Baines were married March 1, 1877, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Solomon Baines, in White Hall, Rev. Hale, pastor of the Free Methodist church, of this city, read the ceremony.

The major part of their married life has been spent in and near White Hall, although they resided in Springfield, Ill. for fifteen years and in Houston, Texas for four years.

Mr. Vermillion was born in Wheeling, West Va., August 11, 1853, and Mrs. Vermillion in White Hall, November 8, 1858. There are two children, Fred L. Vermillion, Houston, Texas, and Mrs. Loren Fraser, with whom they now reside. They have also three grand children and nine great grand children.

she received was a recipe box containing a favorite recipe of each guest.

The color scheme of green and white was carried out in the refreshments. The following were present other than the guest of honor: Mrs. Charles E. Hadden, Aileen Heaton, Mrs. Harold Hills, Mrs. Harold Hamel, Sarah Houston, Inez Houston, Roberta Moss, Ruth Williams, Ruth Ash, Mrs. Fred H. Jewsbury, Elizabeth Jewsbury.

SUFFERED 40 YEARS FROM CONSTIPATION

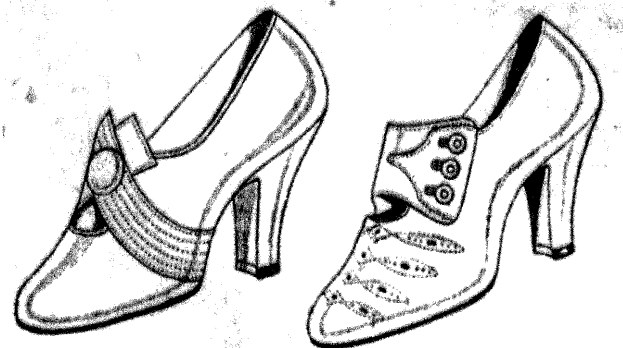

"For 40 years, I had been praying for a lasting remedy for constipation and its evils. Finally, I tried Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Since that time (nearly 10 years ago), I have not taken any medicine. Have been well and entirely free from constipation."—Mrs. I. H. Kendig, R. F. D. No. 2, Lancaster, Penna.

Don't let common constipation ruin your life. You can end it safely, without using drugs that soon lose their effectiveness.

Just eat two tablespoonfuls of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN every day—with every meal in severe cases. Serve as a cereal with milk or fruit, or cook into appetizing recipes. ALL-BRAN absorbs more than twice its weight in water and gently clears away the wastes that cause headaches, tiredness and serious illness.

The vitamin B in ALL-BRAN helps tone up the entire intestinal tract. Buy ALL-BRAN from your grocer. Guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

MEN WRANGLERS BEAT GIRLS, ON TECHNICALITY

The old question of the desirability of electoral colleges was discussed in the regular meeting of the high school Forum Wednesday, but the debaters went at it in a rather novel way. The subject as stated for the debate was—"Resolved: that all electoral colleges should be abolished."

The affirmative, Arden Black and Norman Ruby, presented convincing material to show that the electoral colleges in the United States are unnecessary and even detrimental to the political life of the country. The members of the negative team, Jimmy Swain and John Clark, did not attempt to refute these arguments. Instead they took advantage of the wording of the question, which said "all electoral colleges", and proved that the electoral college of Cardinals which elects the Pope should not be eliminated. The judges awarded the decision to the negative.

Greenfield Church

To Honor E. Metcalf

At Sunday Meeting

Dr. and Mrs. Davidson Will

Be Guests at Reception

Held Same Day

Greenfield.—The First Methodist church at Greenfield will have a pot-luck dinner at the church at noon next Sunday in honor of the eightieth birthday anniversary of one of its oldest members, Ebert K. Metcalf, who will reach the age of four score on Saturday, March 6th.

The dinner will also be a reception for Dr. and Mrs. W. J. Davidson of Evanston, Ill., who was pastor of the Greenfield Methodist church in 1898 and 1899, and made his home in the home of Mr. Metcalf and his former wife. Dr. Davidson is expected to be the guest of the Metcalfs for the anniversary occasion and to be guest preacher at the morning service on Sunday.

Mr. Metcalf is still far from being retired. He is healthy and is actively engaged in farm operations besides being president of the local Farmers' Cooperative Grain company and the Greene County Fire Insurance company, and advisor to numerous persons on farm values, loans and so forth.

Mr. Metcalf has been a member of the Greenfield Methodist church for fifty years, in which time he has filled with great credit most of the lay offices of the church including lay membership in the annual conference. He was superintendent of the Sunday school in the old brick church which is now the opera house, for thirteen years, and was chairman of the building committee, directed the building of the present edifice in 1900. He has ever generously supported the church both in its local funds and the larger interests of the church. He is still chairman of the board of trustees of the church and very active in the work of the church.

Following the dinner on Sunday a program of reminiscences and appreciations will be given.

Hettick Spills Carlinville And White Hall Wins In Meet; Semi-Final Games Tonight

Scores Last Night
Hettick, 30; Carlinville, 28.
White Hall, 53; Palmyra, 20.
Games Tonight
7:30 p. m.—Hillview vs. Hettick
8:45 p. m.—White Hall vs. Medora.

White Hall—Coming through in the fast of three games, Hettick turned back Carlinville in an upset battle in the regional tournament underway here Thursday night, 30 to 28, and White Hall romped over Palmyra 53 to 20 to reach the semi-final round of the tournament.

Friday night Hillview, the Greenfield winners, run into Hettick, the team of never-say-die boys who overcame Carlinville and White Hall to reach the semi-final round of the Greenfield district tournament.

Close all the way, Hettick shot out in front during the closing minutes of a rousing battle to snatch their first win of the year over Carlinville. Twice before these teams met, Carlinville winning the decision by a comfortable margin in the first game, and then going into an overtime to win the second tilt. The two teams practiced against each other a number of times prior to the tournament.

Five Long Shots
Lawrence, Carlinville guard, kept the losers in the game during the last half, sinking three long shots. He had a fourth long one in the last minute hit the hoop, duck down almost to the cords, and then bounce out. Hettick stalled out the last few seconds of the game.

Stratton, center, and Nevins, Carlinville center, put on the scoring battle, the Hettick pivot man ringing up 12 points to take the honors. Carlinville tied the count at several stages during the game but each time Hettick broke in front, coming through with their last drive in the final two minutes of play.

Palmyra lost one of its players, Lawrence Maxwell, who broke his arm when he fell to the floor during the second half of the game with White Hall. The arm was placed in splints by a White Hall physician and Maxwell, who was also captain of the team, was allowed to return to his home.

Palmyra didn't offer the Maroons a very serious work-out. The White Hall regulars stayed in the game all but about two minutes of the first half, and all but about four minutes of the second half.

The Maroons had a new starting line-up, with the Allen brothers,

The Rockets, In Their New Home With Their Newest Trophy

"Someday, we're going to bring home the major championship trophy," Coach Wallace Baptist is telling his Routt high school basketball players here as they look over their newest bit of silverware, the trophy awarded them for winning the consolation championship at the Catholic high school basketball tournament in Peoria last week.

The Rockets took their newest trophy over into their new gymnasium for the examination. The mat in the back of the picture is one of the two hung in the gymnasium under the baskets to prevent serious injuries. The gymnasium will be put into use next season.

boys made up the squad which won three games in a row to take the consolation title after being bumped out of the championship tournament by St. Patrick's of Kankakee.

Greg Galtens, Hanley, Harmon and Shanahan will not be eligible for competition next year, but the Rocket mentor has a sizeable group of youngsters coming on who may be able to carry out the fondest of the Routt dreams. Ferry, who along with Shanahan scored most of the Rocket points during the year, Ted Bearup, although not a scorer has plenty of height and heft. McHatton, who has been growing by leaps and bounds, and Henry, all promise to give Routt something next year. Bill Galtens almost won a varsity position this year, and probably will get one next year.

The Rockets will have a bigger playing floor, covered with the latest type floor, and with comfortable seats for their fans as inspirations.

This year's team finished the season with a record of 12 wins and 15 losses, but the victory in the consolation round of the tournament assuaged a lot of the grief the boys went through when they were losing one and two point decisions. Their record for the year: Routt, 22; Pearl, 26; Routt, 21; Murrayville, 30; Routt, 23; Chapin, 10; Routt, 20; Cathedral, 18; Routt, 17; Chanderville, 22; Routt, 22; Jacksonville, 19; Routt, 19; Franklin, 26; Routt, 12; Roodhouse, 21; Routt, 14; Jacksonville, 17; Routt, 23; Tallula, 23; Routt, 24; Ashland, 28; Routt, 10; Cathedral, 16; Routt, 28; Pearl, 24; Routt, 16; McCooley, 28; Routt, 14; Quincy Academy, 33; Routt, 18; Franklin, 11; Routt, 29; Chapin, 9; Routt, 15; Murrayville, 26; Routt, 30; McCooley, 11; Routt, 30; Chanderville, 21; Routt, 24; Tallula, 16; Routt, 16; Quincy Academy, 32; Routt, 21; White Hall, 35.

Wildcats Hold Down Shadows And Springfield Wins Easily From Chanderville Last Night

Scores Last Night
Winchester 28, Murrayville 17.
Springfield 49, Chanderville 22.
Games Tonight
7:30—Jacksonville vs. Ashland.
8:30—Springfield vs. Winchester.

With a height and weight advantage that was too much for a scrapping Chanderville team, Springfield followed pre-tourney doubt and sampled Chanderville last night 49-22 after Winchester had played a deliberate and smart game to trounce the Brown brothers and company from Murrayville 28-17.

Tonight will find the four teams left in the tournament moving into the semi-finals. Jacksonville, who rallied to win over New Berlin Wednesday night, will meet the Ashland Panthers who have Franklin's scalp at their belt, at 7:30.

Springfield will meet Winchester in the nightcap at 8:30. Both games promise a lot of basketball for all four teams remaining in the contest are determined to carry the regional crown away Saturday night.

Winchester Out Slows Murrayville
The first quarter of the Winchester-Murrayville game was the slowest yet seen in the tournament. Winchester did all the scoring, sinking a free throw and a field goal for three points. Hazelrigg followed right after the second period opened with another free throw, but Ken Brown and the diminutive "Flea-Bite" Baker countered with a couple of quick ones from the field to tie the score.

Hazelrigg broke the tie with another from the field, and from that point on the Wildcats had things pretty much their own way. Carleton sank another bucket as the half ended and Hazelrigg opened the third period with a shot from the side of the floor to give Winchester a 10-4 lead. Baker counted two with a shot from out in front of the basket and Flynn laid another in to give Murrayville eight points, the last time they were a real threat in the game.

Two field goals and a free throw by Flynn and goals by Hazelrigg and Quinn gave the Wildcats a 19-8 edge in the last part of the third quarter.

Chanderville had its fun in the first two minutes of the game with Atterbury ringing up four points before the slow breaking Red and Black got to rolling. Fultz broke the ice with a free throw and Vela followed with a lay in and another gift shot. A field goal apiece by McCarthy and Fultz gave Springfield an eight-six edge as Deitch connected for Chanderville.

Vela ran the advantage up to 10-6 with a couple of gift shots as the quarter ended. It was Springfield all the way from that point on. At the half they led 21-10, and at the end of the third period 38-14. Coach Peterman sent in a complete new set of long boys just before the end of the third quarter, to save his first string for tonight's game with Winchester.

Chanderville attempted to campaign the Springfield lads to death with speed, but the Red and Black lads refused to get ruffled, keeping their distance, defensively and playing solid, hard basketball.

Springfield set up a zone defense which wasn't strictly a zone. The boys were allowed some leeway in covering the court, and they kept the Comets from getting too close to the hoop, through carefully watching the men and cutting off passes.

News Notes

Henry George McDonald left Sunday for Chicago where he will attend a linotype school for the next six weeks. He was accompanied by his brother, Edwin McDonald, who returned Tuesday evening.

Miss Nellie Durren of this city accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Jan Dodds of Springfield to Bolchow, Mo., Tuesday, where they will attend funeral services for Mrs. Margaret Cunningham Dodds, grandmother of Mr. Dodds.

Mrs. Dodds was a former resident of this community and a sister of the late James Cunningham. She was 99 years of age.

The Church Helpers served a dinner to members of the Eastern Star Chapter at the Presbyterian church basement at 6:30 Tuesday evening. Thirty-eight members were present.

Following the dinner, the group went to the lodge hall, where two new members, Mrs. R. A. Felt and Mrs. A. W. Moore, were initiated. A number of visitors from chapters at Jacksonville, Champaign and Ashland were present. A social evening was enjoyed following the initiation.

The Martha society of the M. E. church will meet next Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. H. Conover.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Engle, Mrs. Bridget Looker and Miss Lizzie Jacobs were Wednesday visitors in Beardstown.

Mrs. Pete Goff has returned home from a Springfield hospital where she underwent treatment for a few days. Leo Arthony is suffering from a severe attack of tonsillitis.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fox and Miss Edith Coleman were among those from this city to attend funeral services for August Bollhorst in Beardstown Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cramer are the parents of a son born Tuesday. He is the fourth child, and third boy.

Meddames Glenn Birnbaum, Wm. Burkholder and Chas. Angler were Springfield visitors Wednesday.

Miss Jane Yowell entertained the S. S. Bridge club and a few friends Tuesday evening. Four tables were at play, the high score prizes going to Marjorie Waggoner and Dorothy Graves, and the traveling prize to Charadine Angier. Misses Bena Mae and Elizabeth Blair, Ruth Drye, Nancy Joe Caldwell and Judy Davis were guests.

Browning Holds Lead in Checker Tournament Here

Playing to Be Resumed Monday Night, Tournament Manager Announces

Paul Browning, of this city, four-county checker champion was still in the lead when the second night's play in the Morgan county tournament was completed at the City hall Wednesday night. Due to a misunderstanding the players from Franklin failed to appear for their games, but the Jacksonville players continued play.

Frank Bracewell, manager of the tournament, stated that play will be resumed again on Monday night and that the Franklin players will be given an opportunity to play their games.

Browning kept his slate clean Wednesday by winning three games and drawing one. Roy Snock, a newcomer in the tournament held Browning to one draw in their two game series. Browning winning one game.

Monday night's play will start at 7:30 o'clock promptly.

Reduce Varicose Swollen Veins

This Safe Easy Way Prove It At Small Cost

Swollen veins may become dangerous and sometimes break. Sufferers are advised to get an original bottle of Emerald Oil at Walgreen's or any pharmacist and start to reduce the veins and bunched at once with this healing oil. A small bottle will last a long time because it is very concentrated and a little goes a very long way. Apply night and morning with a soft brush or finger tips as directed until the swelling is reduced. Refund is guaranteed if not satisfied. So effective is Emerald Oil that it is highly useful in reducing troublesome simple swellings due to strain and hastens their disappearance.

HUNGRY BURGLAR AT DEWEES FARM HOME

Food Missing After Raid, Also Fountain Pen

The home of Miss Pearl DeWees, northwest of the city, was entered by a hungry burglar between 6:30 and 9:20 o'clock Wednesday night, the family discovered on their return home at the latter hour. The intruder ate the remains of a meal which had been left on the dining table, and also raided the refrigerator.

In addition to the food eaten on the spot, two cans of food were taken from the refrigerator, and a fountain pen was missing from a bedroom dresser. It is not known how entrance to the home was accomplished. It is thought the burglar found the door key, or that he used a skeleton key.

A kitchen window was found unlocked, but it is believed the thief used the door. He left no trace, and there is no clue to his identity. All that is known of him is, that he had a good appetite.

Those present were Miss Nedra Taylor, Miss Louise McCurley, Miss Louise Blooming, Miss Margaret Frances, Newman, Miss Maurine Self, Miss Mary Jane McCurley, Joanne Erickson, Mrs. Nick Fairfield, Mrs. Fred Leeper, Mrs. Floyd Harney, Mrs. A. R. Tranberger, Mrs. Richard Johnson, Mrs. Marie Helms, Mrs. Murray Smith, Mrs. J. D. Erickson, Mrs. F. E. McCurley and Mrs. Sadie Gallagher.

The Woodson Home Bureau unit met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Louis Wahl.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
DAPHNE BRETT, charming young New York advertising executive, was a devoted father's Connecticut estate to LARRY SMITH, attractive bachelor architect, and immediately finds herself liking him tremendously. Daphne has one sister, JENNIFER, just out of college and on her first job in New York.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER VIII

DAPHNE came back to the living room ten minutes later. She wore her bright green tweed suit with a big collar of soft black fur. Her small green hat bore a tantalizing feather of pheasant thrust jauntily in its crown.

The brightness of the green pointed up the white and black contrast of her skin and hair.

Tuck looked at her approvingly while she drew on her black gloves. Then his glance swung around to Jennifer—Jennifer looking very much like a magazine cover girl in her yellow wool coat, a shade deeper than her soft flaxen hair which flowed out from beneath a childish bonnet of brown velvet.

He sighed.

"I wish I could make up my mind which of you two girls is the most beautiful. You're such perfect foils for each other. Ah me! A man has troubles."

Jennifer avoided Daphne's eyes and was angry with herself for doing so. "Why try to make up your mind, Tuck? It isn't likely that Daphne and I would ever enter into any competition for a mere man. Would we, Daphne?"

She smiled but her eyes asked a question. They were cool, penetrating eyes and left no doubt of the man's troubles.

Daphne blushed. "Don't be ridiculous, you two. Who ever thought of such an idea? Jennifer, don't ever take Tuck seriously. He never means anything he says."

"Suppose you let me make my own conclusions? I'm not really a child, you know." Jennifer's voice had a pettish note.

AND then they were all talking. There was so much to say

"You certainly are," Tuck said and pretended to shove her out the door.

SHE is really a child, Daphne thought, noting the sullenness in Jennifer's face. Jennifer sat between Daphne and Tuck in the roadster. She kept her lovely eyes straight ahead and answered Tuck's cheerful attempts at conversation in monosyllables.

She is acting like a child and I'm a fool to be acting this way to her, Daphne's thoughts ran on, uncomfortably.

But when they had turned off the Parkway and had driven through the familiar backwoods roads of Plantago and were at last at Brett Hall, something within her told her that she was not a fool.

Something in Larry Smith's eyes when he saw her told her, too, that she was not silly.

She saw him before they got to the house. He was—as she had seen him first in riding clothes—on his knees putting burlap bags around the plants under the windows of the corner room, which he had looked through that first day.

"Hi, Squirrel!" Jennifer called from the car.

Larry straightened, put his pipe in his pocket and came down toward the car.

Then he saw Daphne.

"HELLO," he said and there was great warmth in his voice but his eyes were for Daphne and it was to her that he held out his hand.

"We've taken advantage of your invitation," she said. "This is my sister whom you've met and this is Tucker Ainsley, Daphne's sister."

"Of course, I've met the little sister. Glad to see you all." He shook hands with Tuck.

"It's been a divine drive, Mr. Smith. You're a lamb to ask us up."

Jennifer offered him an angelic smile and held out her small hand for him to help her out of the car.

"A cold one," he said. "Let's get inside. I've been burning some of these fine hickory logs and I think there is something warmer than that."

They went indoors.

"Mother," Larry was saying, "this is Daphne. This is the little girl in the portrait—the one with the black curls."

AND then they were all talking. There was so much to say about the Hall. Jennifer had taken Tuck to see the old school room. Aunt Alice, twin to Larry's mother, made tea and Larry poured cocktails for himself and Tuck.

Daphne felt that she had known them all her life. All of them but Larry.

Dusk fell early and filled the room with shadows.

"Wouldn't you like to have a look around outside before it gets dark?" Larry asked Daphne.

She went out with him from the room conscious of her sister's eyes on them. It made her uneasy but she soon forgot it strolling with Larry about the grounds she well remembered.

Then, too soon, it was time for them to drive back to the city.

"May I call you?" Larry said for her alone to hear.

"Please do," she said.

The three of them—Tuck and Jennifer and Daphne—drove back to town, stopping on the way for dinner.

"Let's go to a movie?" Jennifer said.

"Do you mind if I don't?" Daphne cut in. "You two run along. I've some things I want to do at home."

All she wanted to do was think. To think of Brett Hall. To remember every corner of it as she had seen it. To remember the things Larry Smith had said to her about it.

Jennifer found her in bed when she returned from the movies. Daphne had rather dreaded that moment.

Jennifer hung up her yellow coat, tossed her brown hat on a stand. Then she dropped down on Daphne's bed.

"So you've fallen in love," she said pleasantly.

Daphne said, "Idiot!"

"You can't fool me," Jennifer said. "Why didn't you tell me how it was? I'm not a bad gal at heart. I'm awfully sorry, Daph. I wouldn't have barged in only I didn't know. I think he's grand and I wish you luck. I wish I could fall in love only I guess I'm not the falling-in-love kind."

"You're only a baby, Jennifer. You'll fall in love some day," and she added hastily, "not that I have."

"Well, if I do, remember one thing, Daphne: I expect fair play and no big sister stuff. I'm just warning you."

Daphne said, "Fall in love with the right man and it will be all right with me, but be careful."

Automobile Stolen At Benson, Ill., is Wrecked Near Here

Police Order Machine Held
After Driver Fails to Call at Garage

A 1937 Plymouth automobile, stolen from the home of Paul E. Beenders, of Benson, Ill., on the night of Feb. 23, was being held at the Lukeman garage Thursday after police had ordered the car held following the failure of the driver of the machine to call at the garage and give instructions as to repairs after an accident on the west hard road Wednesday afternoon.

The police department Thursday morning received a postal card from the Farmer's Automobile Insurance association notifying them that the car bearing the motor number and serial number of the car held here, had been stolen.

Police suspects were aroused Wednesday when a man, unknown to the employees of the Lukeman garage, stopped at their place of business and instructed them to go out to the Norbury Sanatorium corner on the west hard road and pick up an automobile which had been damaged.

The garage workers brought in the machine, but the driver failed to return and give instructions as to its repair. George Lukeman, owner of the garage, called the police department and notified them of the occurrence, and the police investigated.

They found two sets of old harness, several rubbers and overshoes, some oil and other items in the back seat of the machine. Chief of Police Frank Kiloran ordered the automobile held, and immediately put in a call to the State Highway department to learn whether the machine had been reported as stolen. The State Police department had no record of the machine being stolen, and the chief of police began an investigation.

Harry Moore, 521 Washington street, Quincy, whose license plates were found on the stolen machine. Quincy police have not reported to the local department as yet.

Mr. Beenders was notified Thursday of the recovery of the machine. Witnesses said that the machine was damaged when it left the hard road after rounding the curve, plunging back across the pavement and into a culvert. One tire was blown out, the rear axle bent, and there was other damage to the machine.
